Headline:
Patchy rain clearing to sunny spells. Brisk, chilly winds.

Today:
A cloudy start with patchy rain. However, this should soon clear, leaving most places dry and largely sunny, although a few showers are possible across the northeast of the region. Feeling chilly with brisk winds, particularly near the north coast. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Tonight:
Showers clearing through the evening to leave a dry night with prolonged clear spells, however cloud will increase towards dawn. Winds easing for a time overnight but strengthening again later. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Friday:
Breezy with broken cloud and a few showers. Winds easing through the late afternoon, and showers dying out during the evening. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Mild and largely dry for much of Saturday and Sunday with some spells of sunshine. Sunny spells and scattered showers on Monday.
